Pickets On Patrol Again As Strike Hits INCO Plant

THOMPSON, Man. (CP) — Picketing continued this morning at the International Nickel Company of Canada plant here where workers of local 1000 United Steelworkers of America are on strike. Pickets were seen from Winnipeg to give details of a "boast of settlement" to the current contract dispute. Reports from those involved in an overnight picket line indicated that the pickets were determined to continue their action.

There had been no major delays in the negotiating committee's efforts to reach a settlement with the union. The picket line was set up by the union last night to turn back about 600 men who had left the plant. The incident followed a 10-day strike by the union.

It was not known whether the demonstrators were aware of the Wednesday announcement made after two days of government-sponsored negotiations. Reports from the plant, a 100,000-ton annual operation, indicated that enough staff and hourly employees were on hand to carry out production. The demonstrators apparently have been spontaneous and without leadership.

JAMES BOND'S "FATHER" DIES

McClory sued Fleming, British publisher Jonathan Cape and British financier John (Jock) Bryce claiming the copyright interests in the book, Thunderball.

The case was settled out of court, with Fleming assigning the movie rights to Thunderball to McClory for an undisclosed sum. The cost of the case was estimated at $200,000 ($240,000).

Fleming's father, the late Maj. Valentine Fleming, was a member of the British House of Commons. Among the author's vast army of friends was former prime minister Anthony Eden, now Lord Avon.

Critics often were divided on the quality of Fleming's James Bond books.

One said of him: "He is responsible for a series of best-selling novels which put him mildly, emphasize the less refined relationships of the series."

To talk to Fleming was to speak with a lively sense of humor. He often appeared to be baffled by the success of his books. He was tallish, with sandy hair turning grey, a strong chin and a prominent nose.

J. Kent, secretary of the hospital, said Fleming was admitted Tuesday night as an emergency case. "Like Sherlock Holmes, the late Arthur Conan Doyle's famous sleuth, Fleming's fictional hero, James Bond, is probably better known around the world than his creator."

Body Found In Fraser

QUESNEL (CP)—Police are trying to identify the body of a missing man found Monday morning in the Fraser River near here. The body, in its early 30s, was found tangled in a log boom outside a local sawmill. Police estimated the body had been in the water less than three weeks.

HAIR IN WRINGER NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Police are investigating a case where a woman's hair was found in a wringer. The woman, who was found in a hospital, had been treated for a head bump and a bruised ear.

BODIES ENTOMBED PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—RCMP here say the bodies of three children killed when a freighter exploded and sank near Rivers Inlet will have to remain entombed in the hull of the boat, under 600 feet of water. They said there was no hope of recovering the bodies of Larry Williams and Annie Charlie, both five, and Alec Williams, 4, who were asleep in the forward part of the boat when it exploded and went down.

TRILE AWARD VANCOUVER (CP)—Three B.C. students are among 29 Canadians awarded scholarships for the social work studies by the federal health department. Gerald W. Pepper and Mary Nomme of Vancouver, and Glen F. Hamilton of Victoria, will each receive scholarships worth up to $3,000.

Three Pull Out Of CNE Swim

TORONTO (CP)—Two Americans and a Canadian, established a marathon swimmers, Tuesday announced they will not try the 32-mile Canadian National Exhibition Lake Ontario swim Aug. 20-21.

Marty Sinn of Ann Arbor, Mich., withdrew from the St. Catharines-to-Toronto event because of what her coach described as "senseless, grueling and dangerous" conditions.

Held Schmidt of Toronto and Dave Matuch of Chicago, who both competed in last Saturday's 24-mile marathon at Lac St. Jean, Que., also said they won't go in the CNE swim, which has a total of $17,500 in prize money.

Miss Schmidt said she was too exhausted after Lac St. Jean to attempt the Lake Ontario crossing so soon. Matuch said he withdrew because of a leg injury suffered in the weekend event.

But the guild members, who comprise reporters, editors and office workers, rejected a clause presented by their executive calling upon the publishers to withdraw demands tabled after the July 9 walkout of 680 members of the International Typographical Union (ITUC).

A meeting of about 360 of the guild's 1,600 members voted for the guild's "deep concern" at "actions which appear to be directed at the destruction of another union."

Name Change For School Debated

VERNON (Staff) — The Vernon Trustees of School Board No. 21 (Vernon) Tuesday passed a motion to rename the Vernon senior-secondary high school, the Clarence Fulton senior-secondary school.

The motion was forwarded by Dr. W. H. Inkster. The board will send a letter to the immediate members of the family, advising them of this.

The Vernon Historical Society had suggested as an alternate course, to name one of the schools after Mr. Fulton. The board decided to go ahead with the naming of the senior-secondary school at this time so that the impressions of Mr. Fulton's work would not be forgotten.

Press Guild Makes A Plea

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Newspaper Guild Tuesday night called on publishers of the city's three daily newspapers to reopen negotiations with their striking printers and to take a flexible stand on settlement terms.

A meeting of about 360 of the guild's 1,600 members voted for the guild's "deep concern" at "actions which appear to be directed at the destruction of another union."

School Trustees Favor Regional College Grant

VERNON (Staff) — School boards to have a member in attendance to keep abreast of program.

A court of revision for school would be necessary for all district No. 21 (Vernon) is scheduled for September 21-22 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. All applications must be presented in writing.

The monies will be spent on expenses incurred in the initial stages of work on the setup of a regional college in the valley. A. G. Reed, the board's representative to the committee said correspondence, notices and publicity expenses would use up the money. Each board of the 10 participating will be asked for a $100 grant, regardless of size or population.

Trustee A. C. Wormull said if they weren't going at this in a strategic manner and if a budget shouldn't be presented before any grants are made.

Mr. Reed said the group didn't want to have any halts and it would have been critical to draw up a budget at this time. "This first contribution will probably be included in the first budget anyway," Mr. Reed said.

PLENTY WORK "There is a fantastic amount of work to do before our target date of November for the pilot study. At present we don't know exactly what our expenses will be. This is a 'bitty' type of thing. Drawing up of a budget wasn't possible a week ago at our inaugural meeting," he said.

Mr. Reed told the board members, the deputy minister of education had sent a letter saying an order in council had been passed giving the board permission to hold a pilot study of the college.

Last Tuesday at the meeting in Kelowna, board representatives put forward a number of considerations.

We discussed the selection of a coordinator because help is needed in putting information before the public on the college.

"There is also a requirement for the services of a consultant to make further surveys concerning the type of institution," said Mr. Reed.

Dr. W. H. Inkster was appointed district No. 21. Mr. Reed said it ed alternate representatives for

Seventy-Five Replies Received On Grade XIII Plan In Vernon

VERNON (Staff) — About 75 replies have come in from prospective grade XIII students in the Vernon area and some from outlying districts, Frank Paul told Tuesday's meeting of trustees for school district No. 21 (Vernon).

Mr. Paul has been one of the main forces in the attempt to move grade XIII classes this term to the army camp south of the city.

"We mailed brochures to grade XII students from last year and others are to be mailed to students outside the district this week."

"Some of the students who have not contacted us, have probably arranged through school counselors to take their grade XIII here already."

"Staffing and the timetable has been taken care of and the department of national defence will turn the buildings over to us August 24, leaving about three weeks to set things up."

"There have been 15-20 requests from students outside Vernon for housing while they are here. Advertisements will be placed asking for people with room and board available, to leave their names with us," said Mr. Paul.

Mr. Paul also suggested an attempt to have the school library open from 7-10 p.m. each evening for students who want to do research or study.

The board gave the idea verbal backing and will deal with the situation when it is warranted. A move of this nature would probably require hiring

'Ice Carnival "Spellbinds" Spectators

By SUZANNE ZWARUN
Of The Daily Courier Staff

The temperature in the arena was 20 degrees lower than outside, but 100 visitors and 100-odd residents sat spellbound Tuesday night while students from the summer school of skating put on their annual ice carnival.

The sixth annual carnival, sponsored by instructors at the school under the direction of Louise Orwell King, was attended by a record crowd.

The concert opened with the overture, "You Make Me Feel So Young," and ended the summer school of skating put on their annual ice carnival.

MOST APPLAUSE

Perhaps the greatest applause was awarded the last skater on the program, Charlotte (Chas) and a 16-year-old from California, who was the year's B.C. Senior Ladies Open Champion. A 15-year-old skater, drawing over the ice with smooth precision, her goal some skating dress while being in the breeze.

The darkened arena, with its multi-colored lights glowing brightly, was transformed into a fairyland. An unusual act has been signed for the 58th Kelowna International Regatta. Carol Keath with her remarkable balancing, unicycle and juggling act. The 15-year-old girl is a top scholar student from Vancouver and has taken part in many professional programs. She toured 13 B.C.

PEACHLAND—Word has been received here of a motor vehicle accident involving two Kelowna residents.

Mrs. Harold Wilberg was returning from a trip to Vancouver Sunday when they were in a two-car collision on the freeway. Both were hospitalized in Chilliwack as was the driver of the other car a 70-year-old man. Mr. Wilberg is ready for discharge but the others are still in hospital.

What Makes The Regatta What The Regatta Is?

With the sharp slap of bodies hitting the water, this morning one of the country's most famous and colorful water shows began to unfold through Okanagan Pool, the lake and the streets of Kelowna. Kelowna's 58th International Regatta was underway.

What makes the Kelowna Regatta the predominant water show in this country and famed throughout the United States? A good question. Ask a variety of people and you're sure to get a variety of answers. Many will cite the speed-tying ding which occurs nightly in front of the pool grandstand. Others will cast their vote for the swimming races themselves. Still others will say they remember the parade. And many will say that of all Regatta events it is colorful, beautiful, synchronized swimming numbers that linger longest in memory. As for the youngsters—well, many of them will plump for the bright lights of the midway.

All these factors are part of the Regatta, and essential to its success. But there is one ingredient that transcends all, an ingredient that is evident all over town, an ingredient that makes the regatta something unique and which attracts visitors from the four corners of the earth. Even Iceland and Hawaii this year.

That ingredient is an elusive something best known as regatta spirit. To be more accurate, it is the people of Kelowna.

It's been said before, but it's worth repeating again at the start of another Regatta—without the active support and participation of the ordinary Kelownian, this would be just another show. A time-worn cliché, perhaps, but a time-honored one as well. This sense of community spirit will be evident all over town as Kelownians make welcome their visitors.

This fever of local enthusiasm, coupled with the traditional hospitality peculiar to Kelowna, gives the Regatta a warmth and quality which spreads its fame far beyond the surrounding hills of the Okanagan. It makes outsiders want to come and experience it for themselves and then makes them want to return again for a second, third, and fourth visit.

This spirit is something special and something very precious. Without it, the Regatta would wither. In spite of having very nearly tripled its population since the end of the Second World War, Kelowna has managed to retain this spirit. The city has come a long way since it was a handful of people providing their own excitement by holding canoe races on the lake, but that old spirit continues to live on in the hearts of its people. We hope this will never change.

Welcome Guests

The Kelowna Regatta during the years has played host to many distinguished visitors. Among them have been lieutenant-governors, prime ministers, premiers—nine of them at one time a couple of years ago—military figures and business leaders.

This year the tradition is well kept. There are too many prominent personalities for them all to be mentioned here but a few of the names will indicate that our visitors are not only prominent in their own right, but come from widely separated areas.

There is, for instance, our own M.L.A., who just happens to be Premier of British Columbia, Hon. W. A. C. Bennett, a past Commodore and a perennial honorary Commodore. It is urgent business indeed which prevents Mr. Bennett from making his appearance at his home town's annual water show.

Then, too, for the first time we are honored to have as our guests a distinguished party from far-off Iceland. We trust the party headed by Dr. Bjarni Benediktsson will enjoy their visit. Normally we tell coast people that when it rains we have arranged it just so they will feel at home. However, politeness forbids us to suggest our Icelandic friends brought the cool weather with them; it has been here too long in any case.

Iceland and Hawaii! There is a contrast. In both location and climate. Yet they mingle at the Kelowna Regatta. This is not the first time we have had a Hawaiian group visit our water show, but this year's group is headed by Mr. Charles Tam, chief executive of the Island of Maui, and Mr. P. Patterson, director of the very successful Hawaiian visitors' bureau. While Iceland may be strange territory to most Kelownians, Hawaii certainly is not. Indeed, it can be said with a very real sense of probability that on a per capita basis, more Kelownians have visited Hawaii than have the people of any other city in Canada. Hawaii is almost a Kelowna outpost and the Hawaiian group almost rank the status of old friends. We trust they will enjoy their visit to another "Four Seasons" playground.

Heading the list of distinguished visitors, of course, is Hon. J. W. Pickersill, minister of transport. His home base is Ottawa, but he sits in the House of Commons for Bonaville-Twillingate in Newfoundland. That is just about as far away from Kelowna as you can get and remain in Canada, so Mr. Pickersill is doing something of an "east is east and west is west and they'd better get together" routine.

We welcome him most cordially to our big annual show and we invite him to shuck off the cares and responsibilities of office while he is here and relax and enjoy himself.

Let there be—and this goes for our Premier and the other MPs and M.L.A.s and Mayors who are here—Let there be no mention of flags or pension plans or winter works programs or assessments or politics, but let there be only fun and festivity in the manner of the free and easy West at it was in the days when the Regatta was born and no department of transport was needed to guide our comings and our goings.

The pressures are great on our public servants these days. It used to be that there were long parliamentary recesses in the summer and leaders could fan out from the nation's capitals and visit picnics and fairs and celebrations in their home ridings and other constituencies in relaxed fashion. But nowadays such visits and engagements have to be conducted on the run, so to speak. All the better, then, that our visitors' brief stays here should be relaxing and enjoyable.

Just now Canada seems to be in dire need of a dose of national spirit akin to the sort of total community spirit which Kelownians develop during Regatta Week every year. There's more than enough of it to go around and we would be only too glad if Messrs. Pickersill and Bennett could take some back with them to their respective legislative bodies.

We're glad to have our guests with us. All of them whether from government, civil service, the military, industry or finance. We hope you make yourselves right at home, partners; the entertainment is on the house.

Travel To See Art Treasures

STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—Modern art decorating the stations on Stockholm's newest subway extension is expected to attract 25,000,000 passenger-viewers a year.

The recently-inaugurated section of 7 1/2 miles is decorated with frescoes, mosaics, sculptures, animal paintings and wrought-iron work with an estimated value of nearly $300,000.

Some 150 leading Swedish artists, competing for the work, which includes an iron-backed enamel mural more than 3,000 feet long.

Art has benefitted in two ways from the new subway since the excavations involved uncovered more than 4,000 items of historical and cultural interest, ranging from 12th century boats to 18th century beer mugs.

Stockholm's subway system began in 1931 with a half-mile tunnel. Plans now call for a completed network in 1967 with about 39 miles of track and 67 stations.

Overall cost of the subway, which now links northern and southern sections of the city, will be in the neighborhood of $250,000,000.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Palpitating Heart Often Occurs

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about palpitation of the heart? I get this quite often, and I'm terrified. Does this mean I have a bad heart? It's a terrible feeling. I feel as if I'm smothering. Can one die from this?—F.A.N.

By far the majority of these "palpitation" cases turn out to be the result of:

- 1—Excessive coffee or other stimulants.
- 2—Sometimes excessive smoking.
- 3—Jangling nerves, with or without the two factors above.

Such things as an overactive thyroid, or "thyroid pills," or some of the appetite depressants used by unwary dieters, are other possibilities.

The majority of such sufferers have a very good heart. That is to say, they may have good hearts of sometimes defective hearts, but either way such conditions have little if anything to do with the palpitations.

The nervous system has a great deal to do with heart action. Excitement or fear can make it speed up. It is a quite common, you begin to worry about this speeding up or palpitation, then your fear makes your heart keep on beating rapidly, and you have a vicious cycle. The feeling of "smothering" and of weakness is not at all unusual, but these result from fear or nerves rather than from any effect caused by the organ itself.

True, there are cases in which palpitation is related to some real heart defect, but these are exceptions rather than the rule. My suggestion is for people who are worried about palpitation to go to the doctor and have such examination and tests as he needs.

If there is something wrong, now is the time to find out and begin taking care of it.

If, as more often happens, you learn that there is nothing wrong with your heart, then stop worrying.

Dear Dr. Molner: A friend of mine died last year after a gall bladder operation. The third day following surgery she went into shock. The doctor said there was no way to foresee this and sometimes nothing could be done to stop it, as in her case. Now I'm afraid to have such an operation. She was 64 and otherwise in good health. I am 46 and have high blood pressure, am too fat and have arthritis — MRS. A. B.

No operation is without risk. There is always some, however slight. Classic examples have been deaths from having a tooth pulled. This we cannot deny.

Yet the risk has been growing smaller as the years pass. If an operation is needed, it should not be avoided because of this slight risk. To do so would be like refusing to have surgery because of the danger of being shot by a bandit, run over by an automobile or hit by lightning while going to the hospital. Those are real, though slight, risks too.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can the hormone testosterone be obtained without a prescription? Is it safe to use without a doctor's supervision? What is the proper dosage? — O.E.W.

First, you need a prescription. Second, it can do mischief if not properly used.

And third, there can be suggested dosages of most medications, but that is merely an approximate guide. People aren't all alike, and they react differently. Proper use of ANY medication is based on watching to see how the patient responds, whether any unwanted effects appear, or whether a moderate increase in dosage is likely to be useful or tolerated.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. It becomes more familiar with the subject, write for my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed, unstamped envelope and 25¢ in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are urinary, kidney and bladder infections the same? If different, which could be the most serious? — E. A.

The urinary tract in the broadest sense includes kidney, bladder and connecting ducts (ureters, etc.). The kidneys are first in the whole tract, because, you see, the bloodstream flows through the kidneys and they filter out waste matter which then is disposed of through the urine.

The urine (including waste matter) goes to the bladder, where it is held until it is expelled.

If infection occurs in the kidneys, it is to be expected that the infection will also be carried along to the bladder. On the other hand, it is possible for some bacterial infection to be present in the bladder, yet NOT work its way upward to the kidneys. As you might expect, one of the doctor's goals, if bladder infection is present, is to prevent it from moving backward and upward to the kidneys.

So a kidney infection, generally speaking, must be regarded as more serious than a bladder infection, but both may be present at the same time, and both or either would be a "urinary infection."

Cyprus Flag Controversy Puts Canada's In Shade

NICOSIA (CP) — Any Canadian who hopes to escape the great flag controversy at home would be well advised to avoid Cyprus.

Flags in Cyprus approach the level of a national mania, second perhaps only to a day or two of shooting in the mountains.

In the Turkish sectors of the divided island, the question is straightforward. The only flag to be flown is the flag of Turkey—white crescent and star on a red background.

Well, almost straightforward. Since the flags sometimes fly for extended periods, the desecrated field tends to bleach in the sun to a pale pink.

Then it becomes difficult to tell the Turkish national flag from the flag of the Red Crescent Society, the Muslim equivalent of the Red Cross, which flies a white flag with a red crescent over its head, and other buildings in the Turkish sector. The weather tends to make that flag, too, look pinkish in time.

THREE FOR GREEKS

It's in the Greek Cypriot areas, however, that the confusion hits a fine peak.

There is the Greek—Greek flag, the Greek Cypriot flag, and the flag of Cyprus.

The flag flown outside the Greek Embassy here, for example, is a white cross on a blue field, in the center of the cross is a gold cross.

That, says the embassy, is the official flag of Greece.

If common sense were the sole guiding force, the official flag of Greece would be the most logical banner for Greek Cypriots to wave in demonstration of their affection for Mother Greece—the way the Turkish Cypriots wave the flag of Turkey.

Instead, the Greek—Cypriots prefer the flag of the Royal Green Navy. That flag is a series of blue and white stripes, with a blue and white cross in the center—a design vaguely reminiscent of the Stars and Stripes.

OFFICIAL FLAG

For buildings of a public nature in Greek-controlled areas—historic monuments, police stations, government office buildings, and the occasional Greek Orthodox church—there is the genuine and official flag of Cyprus.

The situation being what it is, the official flag is among the rarest to be seen. Some Cypriots have been known to regard this as a blessing because the flag of Cyprus is the result of compromise.

When the Republic of Cyprus, after years of British rule, was being put together in 1959 and the question of a flag came up, both Greek and Turkish Cypriots were sure of only one thing each.

The Greeks refused to consider anything with Turkish red on it, and the Turks rejected out of hand any possibility of Greek blue.

What they finally settled on was a plain white background, with an outline of the island of Cyprus in the center, above two crossed olive branches. The color of the central figure is a pale gold, and the leaves are dark green.

It is not the type of flag that sets designers and heraldic experts to rejoicing.

DEFIANT SIGNPOSTS

While the flag of Cyprus is relatively rare, the Greek naval flag and the Turkish star and crescent are everywhere.

In heavily populated areas, the usual procedure is for each side to clear a building of its occupants, pack the windows with sandbags, build a sand-bagged gun post on the roof, and then float a flag in nose-thumbing defiance above the whole fortification.

Sandbagged villages usually have at least one flag high enough and central enough to identify the loyalties of the occupants, and the village café will often have a smaller banner standing in the corner.

In the mountain battle-grounds, however, a Greek or Turkish flag is nearly indispensable.

Since the peaks so often look alike—and since the Greek and Turkish Cypriots themselves are scarcely distinguishable one from the other—A partisan climbing the hills for a day of rifle practice could become one of the rare battle casualties if there weren't a flag to guide him to the right camp.

The entire situation has been even further confused, of course, by the arrival of the United Nations.

Since the six national contingents in the UN force—Canada, Britain, Denmark, Finland, Ireland and Sweden—usually fly their own national flags over their main camps, in addition to the blue and white UN banner, the sky above Cyprus is alive with flags of every description.

The arrival of a new flag to replace the Red Ensign over the Canadian camp, if it ever occurs, will only add a small ripple to the sea of confusion here.

Women To Aid Plan For Indians

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's women Indian chiefs will be asked to help in the federal government's $3,500,000 community development program for Indian reserves, says the head of the citizenship department's Indian affairs division.

Walter Hudnicki said in an interview that several women chiefs and a number of women councillors are among the leaders of Canada's 2,200 Indian reserves.

"We will definitely look for participation by such women in our program," he said.

The three-year development program is still in the planning stages and will be the first of its kind in Canada.

Like similar programs in the United States and Mexico, it will attempt to take into consideration all aspects of community life. "It will help to make existing health, welfare and education programs more effective," he said.

The cultural affairs section of the program is to be made up largely of Indians, with the "highest degree of Indian autonomy as its objective."

Six Indians are to be appointed to the headquarters staff of this section with others in regional positions. Encouragement will be given to artists, sculptors and dancers with bursaries set up for higher education as well.

"The public image of the Indian is the tom-tom dancer at the fair, but this is like looking at the upper tenth of the iceberg. There is enormous potential which we hope to bring out among Indians."

Housewife Clubs already organized for Indian women may be a source from which women will eventually be drawn into the communities' civic affairs.

ANN LANDERS

First Mark-Down Is The Cheapest

Dear Ann Landers: I am 28 floor walker, Bernice and the boys old and have a good job in the shoe buyer, Bernice and the department store. Since I was a window trimmer, to name just one. She has told me several has made me self-conscious. I like and now I see other things wasn't able to work up the nerve to ask a girl for a date until I was 20 years old.

Last year I began to take out a girl who works in the store. Bernice gave me a lot of confidence in myself. I was interested enough to hold a girl's attention.

Bernice is 24, has been married and divorced. She is full of pep, good company and says she is crazy about me. I gave her a diamond engagement ring for Valentine's Day and we plan to be married in October.

Little I've been hearing a lot of talk about Bernice and the boys.

I'm afraid to have a showdown for fear she will break off with me. I couldn't take that. I'm hoping she will settle down after marriage. Any advice?—

HOPING

Dear Hoping: Bernice isn't playing it straight and you know it. Better to face reality now than to marry the girl and wonder where she is — and with whom.

In the department store business there's an odd adage: "The first mark-down is the cheapest." This adage applies to people as well as merchandise.

FROM BLONDE HAIR TO TONSILS

These Remarks Tire Dad

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks that father get tired of hearing.

"Don't take off your shoes. Didn't you remember we were going out tonight?"

"I hate to trouble you at home, sir, but I have that after you listen to the important message I have for you from the Transatlantic Insurance Company about its new all-family protection plan, you'll know the day I knocked on your door."

"That's your father coming in two, young man. Just wait until I tell him what you've been up to all day."

"You can spend the day if you want to, but if you do, don't expect any present from the best father's day."

"No, I'm not going to cut the roast. You save it. After all, that's a family work."

"I don't understand why you don't want to talk to me about your office. Other than that, I know how to discuss them with their wives. They even ask for their advice."

"What's this blonde hair doing on your head? We are getting really funny with our hair, aren't we?"

"What do you mean you need more money? What did you do with the $3 I gave you yesterday?"

"I know you told me not to give you at the office unless it's an emergency. But this is an emergency. Can you stop off at the supermarket and pick up a pound of butter, a dozen eggs, three boxes of breakfast food, four bottles of milk, some beef kidney for the cat, and..."

"Daddy, it's not fair for you to try to tire me out. You want to tire me out, but you won't let me tire you out. You want to tire me out, but you won't let me tire you out."

"You're tired? What about me? If you think staying all day in a hair salon and three kids in a yard of toys, let me tell you that..."

"No, I don't approve of your running off to play golf with those blacksmith shop friends of yours. This is the weekend you promised the family you'd stay home and dig out the strategies."

Right as in Space. It's real cool."

"I spoke to the ornamental trees about Daddy's teeth. He says that to straighten them, it'll take about two years and $700. Do you think we ought to go ahead now—or wait until the dentist takes Daddy's tonsils out?"

Two Big African Copper Firms Suspend Output Due To Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Two major African copper producers have suspended shipments because of a rail strike, squeezing tighter the world's supply on copper.

Future prices hit the highest levels since 1966 early today. Anglo American Ltd. and the Rhodesian Selection Trust Group have declared "force majeure," a clause in contracts permitting waiver because of forces beyond the producer's control.

Involved is a competing rail strike in Northern Rhodesia.

A third major African producer, Union Miniere du Haut Katanga, said that while some of its shipments normally go through Rhodesia, it faces no immediate shipment troubles.

Meanwhile, Kennecott Copper Corp., the leading U.S. company, is still shut down by a strike that began in July.

Copper demand has been brisk with recent rise of a price increase beyond the 10-cent rise to 32 cents a pound.

posted in March. Producers have said they fear price increases invite substitution but speculation on higher prices gained momentum with the current supply tightness.

This price-rise speculation expressed itself on the New York Commodity Exchange with an opening price of 41.75 cents a pound for the September contract, up 57 cent to the highest future contract price since May 1966.

Robert Kennedy Won't Run Unless Mayor Wagner Approves

NEW YORK (AP)—Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy says he would not consider running for U.S. senator from New York without Mayor Robert F. Wagner's "express approval."

A few minutes after Kennedy made that statement Monday, reporters asked Wagner how he stood on Kennedy, and the mayor said:

"If he is available, he is the type of person who would make an exceptionally fine candidate. I am sure that he would win."

Asked whether his remarks constituted an endorsement, Wagner said "I think I've made a pretty strong statement already."

Kennedy, here to speak at the convention of the American Bar Association, was asked about the Senate race.

One of his replies was "I'm not a politician. I would never have considered or would I now consider, coming into the state of New York against the wishes of the mayor."

Wagner is generally considered top Democrat in New York State.

Representative Samuel Stratton of Amsterdam has been backing Wagner for the Democratic nomination for senator at the state party convention Sept. 1. He claims party support in 60 of the state's 62 counties — mostly in relatively small upstate counties.

The pitting is for the nomination for the seat held by Sen. John B. Kendrick, Republican from Rochester.

He says he has not made up his mind whether to seek a second four-year term in the November general elections, but he is generally considered to be a candidate.

Kennedy says that if he does run, he will run independent of the national ticket unless physical disability would water changes some of the views.

Four New Vocational Schools Planned To Be Built In B.C.

VICTORIA (CPK) — British Columbia will build four new vocational schools costing $2,000,000 each at Kamloops, Dawson Creek, Victoria and either Terrace or Prince Rupert.

When the schools are completed by 1970 the province will have enough facilities to handle 30,000 vocational students annually.

Announcement of the new schools was made Tuesday night by Premier Bennett and Education Minister Peterson.

Minister Peterson gave more details to an interview.

Mr. Bennett said in a speech to the International Association of Universities last night that the government will make vocational education readily available to young persons in every corner of the province.

The new schools were one of the steps the government was taking to meet the needs of the province.

What we are attempting to do is to provide a solution to which the province can turn.

"Freedom School" Burned To Ground

CANTON, Miss. (AP) — Civil rights workers report the 14th burning of a Negro church in Mississippi since the "Freedom School" project to register Negro voters last June.

A spokesman for the Council of Federal Organizations said the Mount Pleasant Church in the nearby Mississippi community had burned Monday night. It was used as a "Freedom School."

Millions Of Chinese Protest U.S. Attack

TOKYO (AP) — Millions of people in Communist China marched in the streets for the 10th consecutive day today protesting against the Aug. 5 U.S. air strike on North Viet Nam.

Protesters, the New China News Agency reported, A broad-based band here said so far 20,000 people have taken part in the nationwide anti-American demonstrations and protest meetings since last Friday.

LADY OF THE LAKE contest is the real reason for the annual Regatta in Kelowna. Not only is the parade of the most beautiful and most talented young women in Kelowna a striking spectacle, but the winning girl has an important job to do during the following year. Over long months, interested people give the girls training so the Lady of the Lake might do credit to the city of Kelowna. It is she, next to the mayor, who carries the city's good name to visitors, to important functions and often on tours of faraway places. She must be a public speaker, she must be a "lady" in every sense of the word, she must be interested in furthering the community. There is high honor paid the reigning Lady and her two Ladies-in-Waiting, but they earn every accolade. Kelowna is proud of them and their efforts. This year there are ten candidates. The new Lady of the Lake will be crowned at a huge spectacular on the first night of the 58th annual Regatta. Photos this year are courtesy Pope's Studio, Kelowna.

BONNIE ANGUS, the five-foot-three-inch candidate from the Kelowna Lions Club, hopes someday to become a teacher of deaf children. The blue-eyed, blonde-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Angus, 878 Ronoke Ave., enters Grade XII this fall and plans later to attend the University of British Columbia. She is a member of the student council, the Teen Town Council and is a cheer leader at school. Her hobbies include cooking, swimming, basketball and watching ice hockey.

LINDA BUCHOLTZ, daughter of Mrs. J. G. Bucholtz, 2800 Harvey Ave., is the Aquatic Auxiliary candidate for the honor. She is 17, Linda stands five feet eight inches and is a blonde with green eyes. She enters Grade XIII at Kelowna High School this fall, and on graduation plans to take up fashion designing in Europe. Linda's many activities include singing in the school choir, playing in the symphony orchestra and sitting on the students' council. Her hobbies are sketching and sewing and she is teaching swimming at the Aquatic during her summer vacation.

BETTY DUNLOP, Teen Town's Sweetheart for 1964, is the group's candidate for Lady of the Lake. Blue-eyed Betty will start Grade XI at Kelowna High School this fall. She likes to hunt with friends and her parents and this summer she has taken up water skiing. Betty also collects oriental ornaments of which she now has a very interesting collection. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Dunlop, 2598 Richter St. She is 16 years old.

GAIL GWILLIM, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Gwillim, 3327 Lakeshore Dr., is the Kiwanis Club candidate this year. Gail enters Grade XIII at Kelowna High School this fall and plans later to study languages at the University of British Columbia. Eventually she hopes to go abroad as a translator. She is a member of the student council, the newspaper club and the French club. She is also interested in ballet. She is five feet six inches tall, has brown hair and blue grey eyes and her hobbies are water skiing and horseback riding.

HELENA OLINGER, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Olinger, of Hobson Rd., is the Gyro Club's choice of candidate. Helena is five feet four inches tall, has dark brown eyes and black hair. She plans to attend Sacred Heart Convent in Vancouver this coming school year, as a Grade XII student. Helena enjoys both water and snow skiing, but most of her attention is given to the eight horses she keeps at her parents' ranch. When she finishes her education Helena hopes to become a lawyer.

JUDY ORSI has been chosen as the Rotary Club candidate this year. Seventeen-year-old Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Orsi of Lakeview Heights, and she is five feet four inches tall with golden brown hair and green eyes. She enters Grade XII this fall at George Pringle High School. She is interested in sports and is vice-president of the school athletic council and captain of the senior girls basketball team. Judy also enjoys both water and snow skiing and likes to sew.

AUDREY PEKRUL, Rutland's Miss McIntosh, is the Rutland chapter of commerce candidate for Lady of the Lake. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pekrul of Swinerton Rd., Rutland, Audrey is ash blonde with hazel colored eyes. She is secretary of the senior council at Rutland High School and next year, when she begins Grade XII, she will be president of the council and editor of the year book. She is a member of the debating club, a leader, a cheer leader and secretary of the pet club. Audrey's hobbies are badminton, bridge and sewing. Her future plans are based on a career in home economics.

BARBARA PODWIN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Podwin, 771 Saucier St., is the Kelowna Kiwanis Club candidate in the annual contest. Barbara is five feet five inches tall with brown eyes and hair. She will enter Grade XIII at Kelowna High School this fall. She is secretary-treasurer of the Future Nurses Club, she sings in the school choir, helps with advertising for the school annual and is a member of the curling club. Barbara also enjoys ballet dancing, water and snow skiing, cooking and sewing. Following graduation she plans to study at the Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster and become a laboratory technician.

JEANETTE ROBERTSHAW, who is 17, is the Lady of the Lake candidate chosen by the Kelowna branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Robertshaw, 1580 North Highland Drive, Jeanette will enter Grade XIII at Kelowna High School this fall. Standing five feet two inches tall, Jeanette has green eyes and reddish brown hair. She plans to take up nursing at the Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster after graduation. Her hobbies include curling, water skiing and swimming.

MARION WALKER, 18, is representing Independent Order of Foresters in the contest. The daughter of Mrs. A. Walker of Winfield, Marion enters Grade XII at George Elliott high school this fall. She is five feet three inches tall and has blue eyes and dark brown hair. Her hobbies include horseback riding, cooking, and listening to music. She is also interested in Judo.

GRIZZLY BEAR
The name Kelowna comes from an old Indian word meaning grizzly bear. This huge bear of the Rocky Mountain ranges is nearly extinct today but once roamed in numbers throughout this Valley. A statue, of a grizzly bear family, the gift of Teen Town was erected in city park this year.

FREE SWIMMING
Any youngster, whether from Kelowna or a visitor, has free Aquatic privileges until he is 10.

Dawson 4-H Club Members Arrive In District For Visit

Fifteen young 4-H club members arrived in Kelowna Sunday for a one week exchange visit with local 4-H club members in this area.

The exchange will not be completed until next summer when 4-H club members from here will be guests of the visitors.

W. T. J. Bulman, leader of the Kelowna beef club, said his club will host five of the visitors, five will go to Westbank club and five to the Kelowna dairy club.

"The purpose of the visit is to foster understanding between club members and their way of life. The visit is purely a social one."

Activities planned for the guests include a corn roast and a beach party in Westbank. All will attend the Kelowna regatta," he said.

DAWSON CREEK AREA

The guests come from Dawson Creek and the surrounding area, Pouce Coupe and Doe River. One comes from Bay Tree, Alberta.

Kelowna Dairy club visitors and their hosts are Colleen Fortier, Dawson Creek to visit Jean McFarlane, KLO; Leanne Dewetter, Pouce Coupe to Linda Scott, KLO; Patricia Hunter, Dawson Creek to Green Smallwood, RR 3 KLO; Myra Lynn Galloway, Dawson 32 year period.

Kelowna Beef club guests are Robert Harden of Pouce Coupe to visit Bruce and Charles Hardy, Highway 97 north; Vern Tremblay Pouce Coupe to Mark and Clerke Johnston, Ellison; Lynn Wadlie, Doe River to Karen Bulman, Okanagan Mission. Her brother Donald will host Dale Marshall, Doe River. Also Bernice Wadlie, Doe River will visit Audrey Gibbons, Ellison.

WESTBANK GUESTS

Westbank guests and their hosts are Merle McGuire, Doe River at the home of Donna Currie; Judy Biew, Pouce Coupe, with Cathy Guidi; Martha Erickson, Pouce Coupe, with Cathy Reed. Two will be guests of club president, Geoffrey Paynter. Stephen Erickson, Pouce Coupe and George De-Chief, Bay Tree, Alberta.

Chaperon accompanying the visitors to Kelowna was Mrs. Lester Erickson, Pouce Coupe.

DESERT CLIMATE

Kelowna's climate is dry, the average annual moisture precipitation is 12.7 inches over a Myra Lynn Galloway, Dawson 32 year period.

Westbank Children Pass Test In Red Cross Swim Class

WESTBANK (Correspondent) — There were 66 youngsters who passed their tests following Red Cross swimming classes held at the Aquatic park during July.

THE CITY OF KELOWNA

R. F. PARKINSON, Mayor

The Regatta Directors have done their utmost to make this 58th Regatta the greatest and best in the history of water shows.

You will find, I am sure, a warm and friendly welcome awaiting you in Kelowna. Welcome to Canada's Greatest Water Show — have a good time — and come again.

Welcome to the FOUR SEASON PLAYGROUND

Welcome to Kelowna's 58th annual International Regatta, Canada's Greatest Water Show, made possible through the volunteer work of scores of men and women who receive nothing for their efforts except the satisfaction of a job well done for their community. This annual event attracts thousands of visitors (such as yourself) from all parts of the Dominion and the United States.

Our wish, on behalf of the Citizens of Kelowna, is that you enjoy the Regatta and take home fond memories of our City. We are proud of our area and invite you to return again soon.

J. W. PICKERSGILL, 1964 REGATTA COMMODORE

J. W. Pickersgill '64 Commodore

Honorable John W. Pickersgill, Council and Secretary of the Kelowna Regatta Association, was elected Commodore of the 58th Annual Kelowna Regatta, which is the highest ranking job in the city.

Mr. Pickersgill was born in Kelowna, B.C., on June 20, 1905, at which time he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pickersgill.

As Mr. Pickersgill was the eldest of five children, he was the only one to remain in Kelowna. His father, who was a successful businessman, died during World War I.

He was educated at the public school in Kelowna, and then at the University of British Columbia, where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1927. He then worked for the Kelowna Regatta Association for several years.

Mr. Pickersgill was elected Commodore of the 58th Annual Kelowna Regatta, which is the highest ranking job in the city. He will be responsible for the overall organization and execution of the regatta.

He has been a member of the Kelowna Regatta Association since 1927, and has served as Commodore in previous years. He is a well-known figure in the community and has been involved in many other activities.

Mr. Pickersgill was born in Kelowna, B.C., on June 20, 1905, at which time he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pickersgill. He was the eldest of five children.

Former Regatta Commodores Come From All Walks Of Life

The 58th annual International Regatta will be organized by Hon. J. W. Pickersgill, who has served as Commodore in previous years. The regatta has had a long history, and its organizers have come from all walks of life.

The Commodore represents the official symbol of the regatta, and is the most exalted position in the show. The Commodore will preside at the official opening ceremony on Wednesday night and will attend all functions during the regatta week as an honored guest.

- Czech Tourists Ask For Asylum
- STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—Four Czech tourists left the East German holiday ship Voelkarschiff here during the weekend and asked for asylum. Swedish police reported today.
- Most of the 570 passengers on board the ship now heading for Oslo, Norway, were reported to be Czech officials.
- When the ship visited Helsinki, Finland, the newspaper said, 10 of those aboard left her to stay in Finland.
- MOSQUITO CONTROL. Kelowna is understood to be the first city in Canada to adopt a complete mosquito control program. Residents in outlying areas will contribute to the fund and in return the rural districts are sprayed.
- BEST HALL. Kelowna's city hall is the finest of those in small cities in Western Canada and compares favorably with any in the larger cities.

Kelowna Regatta Site Picturesque

There is probably no sporting ground for the youngsters. event in Canada staged in a setting more lovely than that of the Kelowna Regatta.

The general tendency is for athletic fields to be located behind high board fences, but Kelowna is quite different.

The annual Regatta is staged in the centre of a beautiful park, which is the finest of any city of its size in Canada.

There are few places where an arterial highway winds its way through an area where there is more natural beauty than the western approach to Kelowna.

There is nowhere in the British Commonwealth where a junction bridge, with a lift open, overlooks such natural beauty. Hollywood, with its penchant for making extraordinary technical extravaganzas, never conceived any setting more beautiful than that which Kelowna has given Kelowna's Regatta.

It has a picturesque park, its winding blue Okanagan lake, its white bridge, its ever-changing mountains and its clear blue sky above.

The park features are a sight all summer long.

The rose gardens, at their best in June, still add their color to the varied scene.

Everywhere you turn there is color in the park. The cool green grass underfoot, its plush and its wide expanse does credit to the work of the city parks department gardeners.

To reach the Aquatic, the centre of Regatta activities, you drive through the main entrance of the park and past the fine circular flower bed and down a winding avenue of trees and lawns.

Pedestrians stroll down the promenade through a fine row of trees, with the sparkling lake to the right.

On the left of the promenade are flower boxes in full bloom and big stretches of carefully tended lawn.

Right in front of Ogopogo Beach, several hundred square feet of asphalt roadway is provided for parking. Immediately to the left is a large statue dedicated this year to the city by Kelowna Teen Town.

The statue of a grizzly bear and two cubs will soon have a plaque on the base detailing how Kelowna got its name from the Indian word for Grizzly Bear.

Nearly a large lot of parking is provided for the regatta. Further on, towards the lake, is the Junior Bowl, where band concerts and other attractions are featured all summer long. In the extreme corner of the park, overlooking the lake, is a large lot of parking.

The park provides lawn bowls, gram of sporting events directly and other checkers for the part of, or tied into, the annual regatta and a children's play-water spectacle.

Soccer Tournery Park Feature

Mingled amid the humming activity around city park on Saturday, Aug. 15 will be the sound of boot on leather. With the 58th annual Kelowna International Regatta at this stage in full tilt and nearing its close, serving as a backdrop, four Valley soccer teams will be engaged in a special tournament.

Clubs from Kamloops, Vernon, Penticton and Kelowna, all members of the Okanagan Valley Soccer League, will meet in the one-day tourney. The prize for the winning football squad will be a handsome new trophy presented by Kelowna's Pasquale "Cap" Capelli, sponsor of the tourney.

All the fast and furious action takes place in the park's oval just outside the Regatta Beach, several hundred square feet of asphalt roadway is provided for parking. Immediately to the left is a large statue dedicated this year to the city by Kelowna Teen Town.

The statue of a grizzly bear and two cubs will soon have a plaque on the base detailing how Kelowna got its name from the Indian word for Grizzly Bear.

Nearly a large lot of parking is provided for the regatta. Further on, towards the lake, is the Junior Bowl, where band concerts and other attractions are featured all summer long. In the extreme corner of the park, overlooking the lake, is a large lot of parking.

MARIN GOLLING, who lives in Vancouver, and training under Mrs. Joan Nagel each winter, returns to Kelowna to visit relatives during the summer and continue her training. Each year she appears in the synchronized swimming the more beautiful synchronized swimming stunts. (Courier photo)

Impressive Trophy List Available For Winners

An impressive list of trophies are available for competitors in the Canada's greatest water show, the Kelowna International Regatta, Aug. 12, 13, 14, 15.

B.C. Champion Sky Diver To Perform During Regatta

A champion sky diver will drop on City Park during Regatta week. Four jumps are planned, one on Wednesday afternoon into the park oval and one each night into the lake in front of the grandstand.

GARY LYMAN

The sky diver is Gary Lyman, who recently moved to Kelowna. He is this year's junior champion skydiver of B.C. Mr. Lyman will leave the aircraft at 9,000 feet and will freefall for the first 30 seconds. During that time he falls about 6,000 feet. The last 2,000 feet are done in two minutes.

"When the time is ready to jump, I climb out on the wheel of the aircraft. Then I jump. In the first 30 seconds of free fall, there isn't time to do anything, except hope the parachute opens. "After the parachute opens, I can begin to steer in order to land where I'm supposed to. Two flaps in the parachute allow air through, giving me a forward speed of 15 miles an hour. Closing either of the flaps makes it turn left or right. Closing both of them acts as a brake. "In water jumps, it is more difficult to land where you want. I carry an instrument panel with a stop watch and altimeter, and I'm so busy wrapping this in plastic to protect it, I don't have time to steer. "The water jumps I'm making for the Regatta will be done quite far out on the lake, so I won't land on top of someone in the grandstand," he said. Mr. Lyman has been sky diving for a little over a year. He belonged to the Halifax diving club, where he was stationed with the navy until six months ago, and is now a member of the Vancouver diving club. To win the B.C. junior championship, he took part in a series of spot landings, in which the one landing closest to the target wins. "The target is about the size of a saucer. About the closest I came was eight feet," he said.

Gondola Race Name Used

Italian gondola races gave the name "Regatta" to Kelowna for its four-day summer celebration. Originally "Regatta" applied to Venetian gondola races and the English usage and spelling varies little from that used in the ancient days of Venice. However, North America has broadened the meaning of the word. It now includes any important "show, sailing or rowing race, in which a number of yachts, or boats, contend for prizes." Rowing clubs can relate themselves to things Icelandic and Swedish, through the term "sculling." The word "scull" is from the Icelandic word "skali" which means a hollow, or from the Swedish word "skoll" which also helped give birth to "scull." Skoll means a bowl base, one of the scales of balance. Another major event at the Kelowna Regatta is synchronized swimming, and this sport also uses the term "sculling." This is swimming with only the hands moving. The swimmer's hands, held a arms length with the elbows kept quite straight, are cupped and through a figure of eight movement of the hands, the body is propelled either forward or backward. Sculling is used in many synchronized swimming figures and those who enter this graceful sport spend many hours sculling up and down the pool.

LITTLE THEATRE

Kelowna has an active little theatre group that presents at least four plays a year. Kelowna Musical Productions on the other hand presents musicals.

LONG LAKE

Okanagan Lake is 80 miles long and all of it is suitable for swimming, boating, fishing. Before the coming of rail and road, it was the main avenue of commerce for the valley. It is also the home of Ogopogo, a denizen of the deep, who is supposed to live at Squally Point.

"LOMBARDY PARK"

Pridham Estates' newest development, known as Bankhead Orchards and for years referred to as "the pear orchard". A new, exciting subdivision being developed and managed by Lupton Agencies Ltd. of Shops Capri.

This new residential subdivision will include:

- (a) a 6 acre school site
- (b) a 6 acre recreational field
- (c) an apartment site
- (d) approximately 230 building sites
- (e) all services will be underground—this includes power, telephone and TV cable.

The first phase of LOMBARDY PARK will consist of 44 fully developed lots. Work of installing services will commence almost immediately. There will be no unsightly poles and wires, street lighting will be smart, modern lamp standards. Planning has been done to minimize through traffic to obtain maximum safety. Values will be secure and this will be a pleasant, happy development to be a part of.

MAIN STEM TAKES ON FESTIVE AIR

Kelowna's main street, Bernard Ave., known across the continent as one of the finest main streets in any city, takes on a festive air each year for the International Regatta.

Flower pots on the centre lamp posts, the Four Season Playground Emblem, signs telling of the Regatta dates and the Red Ensign all add to the color. During the Regatta parade Thursday afternoon parking on the main stem is restricted and crowds park the wide street to watch the more than hour long spectacle of bands and floats. (Courier Photo by John English)

Regatta Slowly Grew From Day Sailing Race

First a one day sailing race. Then some swimmers and divers were thrown in for good measure.

Some cream was added by holding an evening outdoor stage show.

Motor boat and rowing races set the show into a two day effort—then three days.

Now it takes four and five days to run off the jam-packed "three ring circus".

That briefly summarizes the long and colorful career of Kelowna's International Regatta.

BEST YET

The 58th edition promises to equal, if not surpass, any of its predecessors.

Sailing races dominated the Regatta back in 1906. So successful was the program, the Kelowna Courier in an editorial advocated a summer carnival featuring principally water sports.

A year later the proposal materialized after a public meeting and a special committee consisting of H. H. Lyons, L. A. Avis, G. H. Packer, Frank Dellert, J. Wilks, A. L. Meugens, W. M. Crawford, J. Bowes, F. A. Taylor, F. E. Wollaston, and H. Hardman pioneered the way for the start of Kelowna's annual summer event.

But from a tiny acorn the great oak grows.

WHARF USED

Part of the CPR wharf, then at the foot of Bernard Ave., was shaded by an awning and used as a grandstand.

The program consisted of three sailing races, four rowing and three swimming events, two diving competitions and motor boat races. Comedy was thrown in by the popular "groove pole".

Around 1909 it was decided to form a permanent body to direct the Regatta and foster water sports.

And the Kelowna Aquatic Association Ltd. was born. A total of 400 shares valued at $25 each formed the capital of the company totalling $10,000. The promoters of the organization all subscribed heavily and an energetic canvasser sold sufficient shares to enable the building of the first structure on the fore-shore of city park.

This property is still used today under lease from the city.

FIRST HEAD

George C. Rose, then editor of the Courier, who first conceived the idea of an annual water show was elected the first president of the organization.

The new premises were formally opened in August 1909. In 1910 a grandstand was erected at a cost of $1,450. It could seat 800 people.

The war took a heavy toll. It has been said that more men per capita from Kelowna were in the armed forces than in any other town in Canada. Due largely to lack of contestants, the show reverted to a one-day affair in 1915. At the end of hostilities the two-day gala was resumed.

The succeeding years gave an indication of what was to come and by 1920 the directors saw the grandstand had to be extended. A 30-foot extension was added at a cost of $4,490.

The silver anniversary was marked in 1931. Improvements were made to the bathhouse at a cost of $1,600. This year also marked the first appearance of H. F. Parkinson on the directorate.

At this stage there were signs that something was wrong. Membership had decreased. Interest had flagged and activity had dropped. A group was determined that something should be done quickly.

Up to this time dances were held every fortnight, but in 1912 it was decided to make them a weekly affair.

Two years later the war broke out and this posed a problem for the Aquatic similar to that which had to be faced years later in 1940. After considerable debate the directors felt to break the continuity of the water shows would be a fatal mistake. The string might never be picked up again.

PRECEDENT

Little did they realize they were setting a precedent for the directors of 1940.

An extraordinary general meeting was called for June 7, 1933, to hear a report from the special committee which was empowered to investigate the Aquatic.

The committee proposed that the directorate of the limited company be reduced to three, to be elected by the shareholders; and in addition, an advisory council of five be chosen by ordinary active members, who did not have stock.

The proposal was readily accepted.

NEW STEP

That year the innovation was tried. Special committees were appointed to handle special features of the regatta. They consisted of rowing, internal management, swimming, diving, lifesaving, entertainment, dancing, publicity, and membership.

This was the start of the extensive organization required today.

During the depression years the Aquatic had its troubles of course, but the Regatta progressed and were generally successful. It was at this time outside attention began to be drawn to the Kelowna Regatta and outside swimmers from coastal points and the U.S. began to appear.

AUXILIARY

In 1936 a Ladies Auxiliary was formed for the primary purpose of bringing the women's touch to club house activities and furnishings. This organization has been a tremendous tower of strength to the association and has been responsible for much of the furnishings in the lounge, dance hall and bath house.

In later years it has taken over the competitors billeting and a dozen other chores at Regatta time.

In 1940 the directors, like their predecessors in 1914, were faced with the problem of whether or not to continue the Regatta during the war years. Like the 1914 directors they decided it was advisable to keep the continuity. It was well they did.

MAJOR CHANGE

Around 1941, another major change was made in the set-up of the association. The limited company was completely dissolved. For years it had hardly functioned as such and it was considered advisable to change to a society incorporated under the societies act. The consent of the shareholders was readily obtained.

It was also during the 30's the dates of the Regatta were changed to near the second week in August. Records showed old men weather was invariably in a good frame of mind at this time of year. In only one instance — 1948 — has it rained continuously during the show.

EXTENDED

In 1953 the Regatta was extended to three days. In 1959 for the first time the Regatta ran into five days. During the 60's and 70's major renovations were made to the aquatic plant, and in 1967 a new look was given to the balloon, tea room, lounge and various rooms underneath the grandstand.

In 1956 an addition was made to the Tea Room, and the portion of the dining room overlooking the water was removed to make way for more seats.

NEW NAME

Early in 1963, the association officially adopted the name, Kelowna International Regatta Association, and the sole purpose of promoting the Regatta. It would continue to use the Aquatic facilities but all Aquatic buildings are now under the jurisdiction of the city of Kelowna Parks and Recreation Commission.

Any profits from the Regatta are turned over to the city for further expansion and promotion of the aquatic.

SPECTACULAR

The Regatta has grown through the years from a small city effort into a spectacular featuring the appearance of such Hollywood stars as Guy Mitchell who sang during two of the first time the Regatta ran into five days. During the 60's and 70's major renovations were made to the aquatic plant, and in 1967 a new look was given to the live up to its past history.

Fancy Antics Of Clown Divers Featured Highlight Of Show

By PETER MUNCE
Sports Editor
Of The Daily Courier

Always a highlight at any Regatta, the antics of the clown divers are the most popular feature when it comes to water shows. This year at Kelowna's 58th International Regatta clown diving will again be a featured highlight.

Some of the world's finest divers will step out of character to portray in a deep, comical "performance" on the Aquatic diving boards and tower.

These polished professionals will "interrupt" every show to amuse the spectators with humorous routines.

COSTUMES

Dressed in outlandish costumes the aquaballies will carry out their mayhem in perfectly ridiculous union. Timing is of the utmost for their routines.

And it's not the youngsters alone that they cater to. Clowns can enjoy just as much belly laughs from the side-splashing antics of these rascals.

This year, the clown diving will be performed by world famous Eddy Cole's professional diving troupe who will also perform exhibition diving routines at "Canada's greatest water show."

Eddy Cole is a long-time Regatta favorite who has thrilled audiences here for many years. The native of Ann Arbor, Michigan, has been tagged the best acrobatic diver in the world today, which accounts for his tremendous ability to play the role of a clown. He brings to it the poise and skill of a seasoned professional.

TRAMPOLINE

Continued and in conjunction with the diving abilities to his trampoline work. He is a star performer in this field as well. Last year at one of the eight shows all the divers got together in an impressive comedy diving sequence. Having about five of his trampoline, it nearly brought the house down.

Each year new routines are added to the comedy diving and this year more can be expected. But you can rest assured many of the popular old acts will be retained. The cones falls enjoy over and over.

LARGEST MILL

The S. M. Simpson Co. is Kelowna's largest sawmill. It operates the largest sawmill in the interior of British Columbia and also the largest plywood plant outside the coastal areas.

Six Rules For Safety With Trailer

With thousands of motorists using their cars this summer to haul pleasure boats to the water, the B.C. Automobile Association urges boat owners to observe six safety rules on the highway.

When towing a boat trailer, drive at a lower rate of speed. Large boats add considerable weight to a towing car, and longer stopping distances are required.

In turning corners, allow extra room for the trailer. You should also take this into consideration when pulling out to pass and when returning to the proper lane after passing.

Sharp turns should be taken at slower than normal speeds, especially on rough roads, as the trailer may tend to bend side.

Attach Hitch
Make certain the trailer hitch is tight. In accordance with the B.C. Motor Vehicle Act, the hitch must be attached to the car frame and not to the bumper or axle.

A safety chain or metal wire between the car and trailer is also obligatory. Allow enough slack to permit the trailer to turn freely.

If the car's turn signals are obscured, either install signals on the trailer or give visible hand signals.

ONE OF THE OLDEST EVENTS at the annual International Regatta at Kelowna is the water polo races. This year they will be even better, with the addition of a team of Sea Rangers who have been practicing long and hard for the events. They may have to race against a male team, but that doesn't seem to phase them. This picture, taken at the 1963 Regatta, shows the crew from the Vernon Army Cadet camp as they struck their way to a win. The boys came down every day for a week and a half to practice. (Courtesy photo)

Regatta Co-ordinator Man With The Answers

By AL STEWART
City Editor
of The Daily Courier

He stands in the wings and watches the color and spectacle unfold before him, a water and stage program that takes only two hours.

If a snag develops in the entertainment, or a crisis is foreseen, he'll take care of it. The man is Bob Simpson. The water show of course is the Kelowna Regatta.

The regatta begins each year in early March for Bob Simpson, who is co-ordinator of the Regatta Association. Major part of the responsibility for organization of the four-day annual event rests on his shoulders. But he's modest about his tremendous task.

"Without the co-operation of the regatta committee, and Kelowna citizens it would be absolutely impossible to produce this show," said Mr. Simpson.

"The most important work of the co-ordinator is to get efficient local people to accept responsibility."

34 COMMITTEES
The co-ordinator noted that this year the association had set up 34 committees to handle the arrangements. The committees do much of the work, but Mr. Simpson must keep in constant contact with each one.

"The Regatta is big business," said Mr. Simpson. "We should bring in $100,000 this year. And that's direct revenue. It's hard to say what the indirect benefit is."

It is essential, he said, to have the full co-operation of the community to make the regatta a financial and artistic success.

Mr. Simpson said all money netted by the association is turned over to the city to cover the capital cost of building the Aquatic plant.

TO PARK AND POOL
Any money earned by the association goes directly to reducing the operating expenses at the park and pool facilities, said Mr. Simpson.

Early in March, working from his own home, Mr. Simpson starts the ball rolling toward three or four critical days in August, when the annual Regatta draws tourists from all over the continent.

This year the first problem to pop up was the construction of a badly needed back-drop. Mr. Simpson contacted the city to make certain that facilities were available for the back-

BOB SIMPSON

He must also make arrangements for a three-way communications system, medical officers, marine patrols, war canoes and make sure the large is moved and being removed from the front of the Aquatic.

Mr. Simpson also makes sure that power boat committee has the boats arranged and that all necessary painting is done to the stands, stage and signs.

LIGHTS
Lighting and sound equipment must be installed and checked to make sure it functions properly to the satisfaction of the night show director.

So the regatta is scarcely over before another starts for Mr. Simpson.

ALTHOUGH THE 10-METRE tower at Kelowna's Olympic pool was named at its construction in 1961 for Kelowna's diving doctor, member of the Hall of Fame, George Athlone, the sign was only erected in time for the 1963 Regatta. Athlone Tower is a familiar name to the diving world, however. Many families names have toppled from its heights. The tower is the focal point of Regatta events, as well as the weekly summer Aquatics. Aside from its training to the diving world, it is familiarly to city residents, the children who bask in the sun beneath it, the women who glance at it while drinking coffee in the Aquatic dining room and the thousands of drivers who pass it in circling the city park. (Courtesy photo)

It stands over 30 feet high, test to their devoted work with built to Olympic standards, and youngsters.

Dr. and Mrs. Athlone have three sons, George 12, Greg 9, and Garry 3. Mrs. Irene Athlone is a native of Winnipeg.

Besides Dr. Athlone, three other men were vitally connected with the new diving tower. It is named after Dr. George Athlone, one of Canada's top divers and since 1953 a member of the Canadian Hall of Fame.

Dr. Athlone was born in Vancouver and has practiced medicine for Okanagan-Boundary at the clinic at Kelowna since 1950. At the 1950 British Empire Games, P. Parkinson, and H. C. Arme, he won more points for Canada than any other athlete. He was on the Canadian Olympic diving team, in 1936, 1937 and 1948. He has been the Canadian diving champion more years than he of the old wooden tower and the need for a permit to acquire.

Mrs. Athlone is also a noted swimmer, the Courier files at-

Big Busloads Of Bright Bands Add Color To Annual Show

Bands by the busloads have been pouring into Kelowna since Tuesday from across western Canada and the state of Washington.

Altogether 13 bands will join in making the city's 58th annual Regatta a spectacle in color and sound.

The musical groups will be used in street parades, at the daily night aquatic show and in the city park's Jubilee Bowl band shell. All bands will come together along with floats and other entries, for the big Regatta parade, Thursday, Aug. 13, at 8 p.m.

CALGARY
First to perform publicly in the city will be the 120-member Calgary School Patrol band. This group will parade at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in the city's downtown, to kick off a busy four days of performances.

The Calgary School Patrol band will parade each day, Wednesday through Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

At 3 p.m. Wednesday and Friday, the group will entertain in the Jubilee Bowl and on Wednesday and Friday nights provide the musical entertainment at the night show.

VANCOUVER
Another hard-working group of visiting musicians is the 20-man Vancouver Fireman's band. Following a 4 p.m. street parade Wednesday, this band will bring a concert to the patients in Kelowna General hospital, at 7:30 p.m.

The Vancouver firemen are also billed to appear in an 11 a.m. parade, Thursday, and Thursday night's aquatic show.

GIRLS' PIPE
The Macintosh Girls' Pipe band is slated to bring street parades at 2:30 p.m. Thursday and Saturday morning at 10:45 a.m.

At 3 p.m. Thursday and 7:15 p.m. Saturday, the group will entertain in the Jubilee bowl.

Stiff Rules Govern Races

Boat owners who move out on the race course during a sanctioned power boat race are liable to a fine not exceeding $500.

The marine section of RCMP, Kelowna detachment, will be out on the lake to see regulations are carried out.

No boats, other than official craft, are permitted inside the course oval. No boats are permitted to cross the course during the race, or move near the course at a rate of speed which might endanger life. Police officers have full jurisdiction over all water craft during a sanctioned regatta.

dangerous and unsatisfactory for top-notch work since not was setting in," said the letter.

At that time a new up-to-date diving tower of steel piping construction was requested. The tower would accommodate three, five, and ten metre diving.

The main request in the letter asked Mr. Jones to approach R. F. MacKenzie, then director of permits, field division, department of defence production, with the federal government, for a permit to acquire the piping.

Mr. Jones was "delighted to do my bit for the cause" and approached the minister with the request for the piping, considered a luxury at that time.

Mr. Arme gave this version of the tower's construction. "At that time there wasn't an Olympic standard diving tower in western Canada. We had to start from scratch. The piping wasn't readily available but with some determined scrounging, we did get enough to build the tower."

"The main sections were built in our shops. Finally we had it ready to move. The CPL donated a barge and Chapman gave us a crane. The barge took the crane and main tower section to the Aquatic wharf where the tower was lowered onto the wharf. We had it finished the day before the Regatta."

"I think the human interest part of this story is the interest that Dr. Athlone took in the building of this tower."

"He took a week of work so he could be there while it was being built and everyone worked very closely with him. He was in there wholeheartedly," Mr. Arme said.

OTHERS
Several other bands will attend the Regatta and play in the big parade Thursday night. However, they are not scheduled to make other appearances. These include:

The Kelowna City band, Penikese City band, Vernon Army Cadets Drum and Bugle band, Kamloops Rube band, Kelowna Legion Pipe band, Kelowna Girls' Pipe band.

APPLE CORPS
Arlene's Appl Corps from Wenatchee will make a special guest appearance Friday in a 10:45 a.m. parade.

The Vernon Girls' Drum and Bugle corps will parade at 3 p.m. Thursday.

ONE OF THE BRIGHTEST new acts to come along in the entertainment world are a group of five women who call themselves the Womenfolk.

The combination promises to provide one of the best nights shows ever on Friday and Saturday nights of Regatta week.

Womenfolk Will Star During Final Two Nights

"Music and women I cannot part but give way to, whatever my business is." So wrote Samuel Pepys in his diary on March 9, 1664.

Samuel Pepys would have been utterly overwhelmed today nearly three hundred years later, by a combination known as The Womenfolk, five charming and talented young women whose pleasure it is to make music.

HEADLINES

They headline the Friday and Saturday night shows at Kelowna's 54th Regatta.

Their RCA Victor albums have won a solid core of fans for the five young ladies, each a talented performer. Together, they combine the many charms which are the way of women.

Alphabetically, they are Jean Amos, Leni Ashmore, Barbara Cooper, Judy Fine, and Joyce James. To be more precise:

JEAN Jean Amos is the newest of the Womenfolk, in terms of performance time with the group. As a singer and guitarist (and banjoist) Jean's been making her way with considerable success for quite a while. But she didn't always want to be a folk singer. Miss Amos reports "Until I was seven, I had my current, when she's not making music with the Womenfolk, Jean enjoys composing—art songs as well as her own arrangements of favorite folk songs—and teaching—the guitar, of course.

LENI Leni Ashmore, a lovely contralto who is also a guitarist, is another Californian born and bred. Her father, an entertainer, was an undoubted influence to her. Although as a child she wanted to be an airline stewardess, Leni graduated from San Diego High School and continued her studies at Cabrillo Junior College. She started singing professionally while she was still in school—at night at the Upper Cedar Coffee House.

BARBARA

Barbara Cooper was born in Memphis, Tennessee—legitimately and from the Pacific shore—and was a musician at heart from childhood on. She wanted to play the trumpet. But the guitar took a firmer hold, and she started lessons on that instrument when she was 12 years old. She graduated from San Fernando High School in 1961, and notes that she also won a beauty contest in that year. Barbara loves singing and music, and she's a business enthusiast, one of the things she likes best about her career, she says, is that she can sing and meet people at the same time. When she's not singing or studying, Barbara relaxes by making mosaics—and she loves parties.

JUDY Judy Fine, another Californian, also is the daughter of a professional musician—a pianist. She started taking classical piano lessons when she was eight, the guitar and folk music came later. She is a graduate of the MacDuffie School in Springfield, Massachusetts, and she studied further at Pomona College, where her favorite courses were English creative writing and French.

She made her professional debut at Pasadena's Ice House, but her very first job was as a model for an art class at college when she was 17, ample testimony to the fact that her charms, like those of her four co-Womenfolk, are visual as well as vocal and instrumental.

JOYCE

Joyce James, with Barbara Cooper, is the other non-Californian native in the Womenfolk; she was born in Dearborn, Michigan. She reports that her mother was a pianist and organist who played for silent movies as a young girl in her hometown. Joyce says that she spent her childhood listening to program music and that "Rustle of Spring" will always remind her of a rainstorm followed by sunshine.

She sang in school choruses from the third grade on, and she says "I led the rhythm band in elementary school." She played the flute in high school and sang in her church choir; she also participated in school plays, musicals and concerts—in other words, music was without question, what she loved and was deeply besotted for.

of humor, Joyce James, poised, cool, with a velvet voice, and Babe Cooper, an all-American blonde.

She studied at the Dearborn Junior College and Wayne State University in Michigan, and then after moving to Los Angeles, attended night school in California. She made her professional debut at Pasadena's Ice House as a single, and later joined the Womenfolk.

"When I discovered folk music ten years ago," she says today, "I knew I really wanted to sing. Singing folk music is what I love to do." There are five young ladies, the single units, who have combined their talents to form The Womenfolk. They sing the best of folk songs and new, and whatever they sing, they bring it. She graduated from San Fernando High School in 1961, and notes that she also won a beauty contest in that year. Barbara loves singing and music, and she's a business enthusiast, one of the things she likes best about her career, she says, is that she can sing and meet people at the same time. When she's not singing or studying, Barbara relaxes by making mosaics—and she loves parties.

Father Sends Son To Jail

LONDON (AP) — Frank Innes called police last weekend and told them to arrest his son, Nicholas, 17, for taking the family car without permission. He refused to post bail for his son, and the boy remained in jail until a court hearing today.

It's heart-breaking for a father to see his son in court, but I had to do it in an effort to give him shock treatment," the father said. "He's been mixing with undesirables." The court agreed with the father's point of view, put Nicholas on probation for two years, banned him from driving for six months and fined him £5 ($15). "I'm sure of one thing," said Nicholas. "I'm never going to do anything again that'll land me in those cells. I didn't like them. When they shut me in I got claustrophobia."

Anti-Poverty Bill Passed In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Senate sent to President Johnson today a $947,000,000 anti-poverty bill designed to give work to idle youth and to help low-income families get off relief. Completing congressional action, the Senate accepted House of Representatives amendments. The House passed the bill Saturday.

Enactment of the bill was a major victory for Johnson who had given the legislation highest priority in the closing days of the congressional session.

"Kite Flying" Hazardous Job

Aside from hydroplane racing, water-ski kiting has proved to be the most dangerous water sport today, and spectators thrill to the daring performers.

Top-notch water skiers from the Kelowna Aqua Ski Club will perform this highly-touted feat at this year's 54th International Regatta.

The idea of kiting was introduced to Kelowna Regatta spectators seven years ago by the late George Quinn of Everett, Washington. Three years later he was fatally injured in a kiting demonstration over Lake Okech, Washington.

A trophy in his memory is awarded each year to the veteran ski-jumping champion of the Regatta.

Only top water skiers should consider the sport. The kite is also something people should not attempt to build in their own backyard.

The kite is 15 feet long and 13 feet wide, made of dacron sail and aluminum steel tubing. It weighs approximately 60 pounds.

The kite is attached to the tow-boat by a 170 foot long polyethylene rope, and reaches speeds up to 35 miles per hour. Kiting should not be attempted in winds over 15 miles per hour, to eliminate possible injury.

CONTROL

The skier controls the kite by holding a 30 inch wide swivel handle through which the kite is properly balanced.

The sport requires a great deal of skill and stamina. As the kite reaches higher altitudes it changes its angle into the wind and the skier is required to balance it evenly to prevent it from tilting sideways and falling straight down.

The tow-boat travels in a straight line with the kite flying directly into the wind and eliminating the possibility of over-turning the kite in a crosswind.

SIGNALS

Two people are required in the tow-boat, the driver and a safety man, who relays signals from the kite-man to the boat operator.

When the kite-man is ready to land he signals the safety man who notifies the driver to decrease his speed rapidly, allowing the kite to descend fairly fast until it is about 25 feet above the water. At this point the boat increases its speed slowly and the kite moves down while the skier sets down on the water.

When the kite-man is ready to stop, the boat stops completely and the rope is disconnected from the kite by means of a quick snap release, operated by the kite-man.

WEDNESDAY HEADLINER

Eleanor Collins, popular night club and television star, will headline the Wednesday night show at this year's Kelowna International Regatta. Born in Edmonton, Alta, Eleanor decided she wanted to live on the west coast the first time she saw it. Almost from the time of her arrival in Vancouver she was in great demand as an entertainer.

She appeared in Vancouver's Theatre Under the Stars, the CBC television's first Vancouver production, the variety show "Hamboula," and in night clubs across the country. Also on the Wednesday night show will be the Kelowna Men's Choir, Carrell Keith and her acrobatic act, and Joan Nagel's Water Ballet extravaganza.

We hope you THOROUGHLY ENJOY this year's show!
